

Truth and Reconciliation Resources

We need the truth to come out more than we need to protect ourselves from legal liability. Listening is our starting point. Listening, because rushing out to take action in the ways that seem good to us in this moment, may well lead to further harm. Call to Action #59 from the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada: Calls to Action states:

“We call upon church parties to the Settlement Agreement to develop ongoing education strategies to ensure that their respective congregations learn about their church’s role in colonization, the history and legacy of residential schools, and why apologies to former residential school students, their families, and communities were necessary.”

This listening is, in part, like looking in a mirror that reflects for us the way our colonial culture benefits us while continuing to cause harm for Indigenous people. It is difficult to look into such a mirror. It takes energy and determination. As a faith community, we draw strength from God and from one another as we undertake this action.

What follows is a list of resources. This list is not meant to be exhaustive. We will update and edit this list from time to time. These are starting points for us because we want the truth to come out, and we want the truth to work on us. Our undefended engagement with the stories and experiences of Indigenous Peoples is part of the healing that is needed for reconciliation to happen.

Indigenous History and Storytelling

The Survivors Speak \(TRC Report, 2015\)

Assembly of First Nations Elders Council

Podcast: Telling Our Twisted Histories

Podcast: Secret Life of Canada

Podcast: Unreserved

The Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada

Executive Summary

Calls to Action

Complete Reports

The Anglican Church of Canada

Anglican Residential Schools

Indigenous Peoples and the Anglican Church of Canada

1993 Apology to Victims and Survivors of Indian Residential Schools

Doctrine of Discovery: Stolen Lands, Strong Hearts

2019 Apology for Spiritual Harm

Anglican Diocese of Niagara - Kamloops

Other Government Resources

Indigenous Health

Drinking Water Advisories

Education for First Nations Children

Resources for Children

Indigenous Picture Books

Indigenous Children’s Books

Other Resources for Adults

Book: 21 Things You May Not Know about the Indian Act

Interview: Sen. Murray Sinclair

Free Online Course: Indigenous Canada

Education Resources for Teachers and Parents

Local Residential School

The Mohawk Institute Indian Residential School \(Brantford\)

Virtual School Tour

First Nations, Métis, Inuit Book Store

www.goodminds.com

Indigenous Authors - Non Fiction

Seven Fallen Feathers: Racism, Death, and Hard Truths in a Northern City by Tanya Talaga

The Reason You Walk by Wab Kinew

From the Ashes by Jesse Thistle

Black Water: family, legacy, and blood memory by David A. Robertson

The Right to Be Cold: One Woman's Story of Protecting Her Culture, the Arctic, and the Whole Planet
by Sheila Watt-Cloutier

The Inconvenient Indian: A Curious Account of Native People in North America by Thomas King

What Comes from Spirit by Richard Wagamese

Indigenous Authors - Fiction

Birdie by Tracey Lindberg

Indian Horse by Richard Wagamese

Jonny Appleseed by Joshua Whitehead

Five Little Indians by Michelle Good

The Marrow Thieves by Cherie Dimaline

Starlight by Richard Wagamese

The Break by Katherena Vermette

Films

Indian Horse

We Were Children